DETAILED ACTION

This is the Final Office Action for application number 10/728,674 Swivel Support Base Apparatus, filed on 12/5/03. Claims 1-14 are pending. This Final Office Action is in response to applicant's reply dated 12/27/04. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

The applicants amendment necessitated the new grounds of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

Claims 1-7, 9-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by United States Patent No. 3854404 to Janda.

The patent to Janda discloses a device having a frame (10) and a computer display (automobiles contain computer displays), a swivel mechanism, including a foot (44), having a foot pad (bottom of 44) in contact with a support surface, the foot pad (bottom of 44) configured with a material that having a defined coefficient of friction that enables the rotation of the frame and impedes translational movement of the foot and a disk (38) which supports the majority of a load on the frame, which is fixedly and detachably connected to the foot (44) and secondary feet (bracket for 28) each having a pad (28) and designed to share the load on the frame, which are connected to the frame (10) and disposed in the location surrounding the swivel mechanism the secondary feet (bracket of 28), the pads having a lower frictional coefficient than the foot (44), and an axle (40) in fixable and rotatable contact with the disk (38) and secured to the frame with a screw head (50).

Claims 1, 13 and 14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by United States Patent No. 2264128 to Branch

Branch discloses a device having a frame (1) and a swivel mechanism, the mechanism having a foot (11) with a foot pad (12) in contact with a support surface, the foot pad configured with an elastomeric material that enables the rotation of the frame and impinges translational movement of the foot, and secondary feet (7) each having an elastomeric pad (lower outside portion of 7), the secondary pads having a lower frictional coefficient than the foot pad (12), wherein the secondary feet pads are configured with a material that enables rotation of the frame when supporting the device on the frame.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

Claim 8 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over United States Patent No. 3854404 to Janda as applied to claims 1 and 2 and further in view of United States Patent No. 6467746 to Paskiewicz.

Janda discloses the basic inventive concept with the exception that it does not disclose wherein the swivel mechanism includes a spring at least partially surrounding the axle, and supporting the frame.

Paskiewicz discloses a swivel device which has a spring (See Col. 7, lines 2-5) which surrounds an axle (224) and supports a frame (200), the spring used for resiliently supporting the frame. Therefore it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to have added a spring to the device of Janda in order to resiliently support the frame,

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-14 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).
